Dear Parents,

Over the last six months, the Board of Managers of Al Raja School has been taking a close look at the school's mission and vision statement. In November, the Board approved an updated Mission, Vision, Core Values, Position Statement, Value Proposition, and Tagline.

Below are the results of that important work. You may notice that the Mission and Vision has not drastically changed. While some key additions and clarifications have been made, the core of it - the strong students and strong community - has not changed.

Al Raja School has a long, proud history of providing a quality education and a quality community. This is embodied in this Mission and Vision, as well as in the practice that staff, students, and parents engage in every single day. Over the next few months, the newsletters will discuss the Core Values in slightly greater detail.

Al Raja School has been operating since 1899 - for over 115 years. We look forward to continuing this legacy.

Sincerely,

Joshua Perkins
Principal
